LISTENING CARD STORY

Satoru is a student in Japan. Last summer, he went to Australia to study English for six months. He made many friends at his school. His friends there did something interesting. They made a newspaper every month. When Satoru came back to Japan, he told his friends at school about the newspaper. They said, "Let's make one for our school!" Their teacher Mr. Ito said, "That's a great idea." Ten students wrote about their teachers, the school clubs, and the school events in English for the first school newspaper. Satoru gave the newspaper to everyone at lunch time. They enjoyed reading it.
